VIEW

Market was volatile throughout the week and had taken wild swing in both the direction.

Although Bears tried their best to make presence on D-street but expectation of lower interest rate from coming RBI policy, softening crude oil prices and positive expectation from NDA govt. have supported the market. We expect the rangebound move will continue in the coming session due to RBI monetary policy, Auto sale data and on going trade war tensions.

NIFTY-

- a) Nifty is moving in a sustained uptrend as the sequence of higher top and higher bottom formation remain intact.
- b) Sustainability of index above all the price pattern breakout suggest index continues to remain in an uptrend in the medium term
- c) From last four weeks, Nifty has been formed strong basis near 11800 levels. Until this break decisively on closing basis, bias will remain positive
- d) Range bound movement is expected in coming week in the range of 12200 to 11800 levels
- e) Resistance is seen at 12050 followed by 12200 levels on upside (138.2% external retracement of previous decline)
- f) Support lies at 11800 level followed by 11590 levels on downside

Banknifty Weekly

3-Jun-19

VIEW

After opening with a green session, Banknifty traded in the band of 30623 and 31784 throughout last week and closed the week with a net gain of 0.5% over its previous week's close. HDFC bank and Axis bank were the major gainers during the week and closed after gaining over 2%.

OBSERVATIONS:

- 1) A 'Hanging man' pattern was formed on daily chart of Banknifty. It is a bearish candlestick pattern and indicates a potential reversal in an uptrend.
- 2) A negative divergence was formed in Stochastic.
- 3) A gap was made in between 29560 and 30111 in Banknifty.

According to the above observations it can be concluded that some profit booking is very likely in the Banknifty in extreme short term. In the profit booking process the index may fill the gap of (29560 - 30111) which was left on 20th May 2019.

VIEW

Currency sentiment remain upbeat last week and pair moved lower after testing our mentioned resistance. Crude oil prices gave biggest monthly fall since november as trade conflicts spread with US ramped up trade tensions globally by vowing to slap tariffs on all goods from maxico & China. Global market expect these trade tensions to trigger a recession which can show its impact on rupee. Pair will continue to witness profit booking and selling pressure. Meanwhile, market participants will soon set their eyes on the RBI policy meet, progress of the monsoon, the forthcoming budget and the performance of the new govt's 100 days agenda. These events will set the further course of action for the currency market.

TECHNICAL FACTORS-

- a) Currently, pair has been trading near rising support line which indicate strength in Rupee
- b) Sustainability of RSI below 50 and negative crossover in MACD on daily chart also looking conducive for our domestic currency
- c) On crossing below 69.35, pair can slip down till 69 and 68.40 mark.
- d) Resistance is seen at 70.10 followed by 70.70 marks

Spread Call View – Sell Zinc Buy Lead

The spread of Zinc and Lead have tested the record low of -96 levels and currently the spread is trading at -92. We believe the spread to narrow towards -75 to -70 levels in the months to come.

Source: Bloomberg, Narnolia Research

MCX Zinc prices have rallied by almost 23 percent since the start of this year. Zinc has been the best performer among the base metal complex in 2019 during the first quarter of 2019. While Lead prices has remained unchanged during the first quarter of 2019. We believe Lead prices to stay strong over Zinc prices in future.

Zinc Treatment and refining charges has risen towards $265 per tonne, up from $20 per tonne in Sept 2018 which indicates the smelter get a higher margin towards refined production indicating the output to keep rising in coming months. On the other hand, Lead refining charges have remained unchanged helping us to forecast that no major production increase is expected in near future. This also points towards rise in zinc production will be higher as compared to lead production.

Treatment and refining charges

Source: Bloomberg, Narnolia Research

LME inventories of both Zinc and Lead are currently near decade low levels. Although, a big inflows in zinc inventories this week have fanned expectation that supply tightness will end soon. LME Zinc inventories jumped to 73,700 tonnes, rising from the record low of 50,000 tonnes in January 2019. LME Zinc stocks have increased by 11 percent since February 2019. While Lead stocks has remained unchanged during the same period.

Source: Bloomberg, Narnolia Research

Zinc mine supply is expected to come online during the second half of 2019 as smelters earn a higher margin and with prices up 20% during the year we believe supply of zinc is expected to increase in the months to come. On the other hand, Lead supply is expected to rise by 4.1% in 2019 however the tightness in availability of lead concentrate may provide constraint to the global lead output.

Spread Call View – Sell Zinc Buy Lead

The spread of Zinc and Lead have tested the record low of -96 and currently the spread is trading at -91. We believe the spread to narrow towards -75 to -70 levels in the months to come.

Various Possible Outcome of Spread Call:

1. Zinc price to fall, Lead price rise
2. Both Lead and zinc prices fall, but zinc to fall more
3. Lead prices unchanged, while zinc prices fall
4. Both Lead and zinc prices rise, but lead outperform
5. Lead rise, while zinc prices unchanged

Conclusion:

“Higher Zinc refining charges, expectation of new zinc mine supply, rising LME Zinc stocks and tighter lead market makes us to come to a conclusion to actively short zinc and buy lead.” Therefore, we expect the ratio Sell Zinc and Buy Lead to become narrow towards -75 to -70. At present the ratio is trading at -92 as on 18th April 2019.
