Precious Metals News

Gold prices inched up, supported by strained Sino-U.S. relations and a dismal global economic outlook, although positive news from an early-stage trial for a coronavirus vaccine spurred some risk appetite and capped gains.

Stocks and oil surged after drugmaker Moderna said its experimental vaccine showed promising results in an early-stage trial.

Highlighting Sino-U.S. friction, stock exchange Nasdaq Inc is set to unveil new restrictions on initial public offerings, which will make it more difficult for some Chinese companies to debut on it, sources said.

Money markets ramped up expectations that the United Kingdom could cut interest rates below zero for the first time.

The global economy will take much longer to recover fully from the shock caused by the new coronavirus than initially expected, the head of the International Monetary Fund said.

Epicentres of the coronavirus outbreak including New York, Italy and Spain are gradually lifting restrictions that have kept millions inside.

Precious Metal Outlook

Precious metals are trading lower in the morning trade. We expect prices to trade sideways to positive after the promising results arising for an early stage vaccine for virus however rising US-China trade tension and continued monetary policies along with record lower interest rates for the foreseeable future providing a favourable backdrop for gold prices.
